

NO HOMEWORK POLICY OF THE SCHOOL

At St. Maria De Mattias School, Mysuru. children have no homework until Grade 3. Homework for a tender child also limits valuable family time, and can be detrimental as a mental stress. Once homework is introduced in the Grade 4, teachers are conscientious about balancing the homework load, teaching students the skills to manage the work, and making sure that the homework assigned always serves a purpose and is connected to helping students achieve the highest academic standards.

The Junior School is a place where every child discovers his/her identity. The role of the teacher is that of the ‘guide on the side’. Children are taught in a way that enriches their minds, unlocks their true potential and provides them with the skills to nourish in today’s world. The curriculum with no homework policy therefore aims to facilitate students in the process of their self-realization and to attain a complete transformation to become robust pillars for a promising future. The syllabus is planned meticulously to develop in the students a love for learning, while giving them the strong basic skills they will need, for a smooth transition into middle school.
